RE: VICTOR ZIKALALA

Introduction

I am the former Head of Equities Research at Momentum Securities having been so since 2003 when it was still Imara SP Reid before the Momentum takeover in 2015.

Having retired in 2013 from Momentum I have maintained my interest in the investment scene on a consultancy basis as well as continuing my research in land and tax reform with the intention of further publications in that regard.

Victor Zikalala

I struck up a conversation with Victor when he was manning an ANC table outside the Saxonwold IEC election station in 2017 in the course of which I explained that I was approaching land and tax reform on a politically neutral basis. Victor, however, immediately showed a keen interest in my proposals in regard to land rent collection and tax reform as being a vital element in the move away from the apartheid era towards economic growth and prosperity. In addition, in the national interest, he assisted in the setting up of a Facebook page for the digital communication of Our Land, Our Rent, Our Jobs, a book by myself and Michael Jacques published in 2014.

Furthermore, as I now have more time for this and intend to write a follow up, he has satisfied me that he has the ability to take this forward to the setting up a website in due course so as to facilitate ongoing public discourse.

Accordingly, I can with confidence recommend consideration of his services in this regard.
